Healing Warriors Program Launches the Homecoming Fund on Veterans Day, Inviting Community to Help Bring Veterans Home

New $500,000 campaign aims to sustain free, non-narcotic care for veterans and their families amid growing demand and uncertain grant funding.

FORT COLLINS, CO — November 11, 2026 — This Veterans Day, Healing Warriors Program (HWP) is launching the Homecoming Fund, a campaign with a goal of raising $500,000 by December 31, 2026, to ensure veterans and their families can continue receiving the care and support they deserve, at no cost.

The Homecoming Fund is built around a powerful idea: bringing veterans home. Not simply home from service, but home to themselves, to their families, and to a life where healing, connection, and hope are possible.
For nearly 20 years, Healing Warriors Program has provided free, non-narcotic complementary care to veterans and their families experiencing the lasting effects of military service, including PTSD, traumatic brain injury, chronic pain, and other challenges. Through treatments including Acupuncture, Craniosacral Therapy, and Healing Touch, HWP helps clients find relief, restore balance, and reconnect with the people and lives they love.
Today, demand for these services has never been higher, while the grant funding that has historically helped sustain the organization has become increasingly uncertain. The Homecoming Fund invites individuals, businesses, foundations, and community leaders to step forward and help secure the future of this essential care.

"Service doesn't come home to just one person. Spouses, partners and parents carry it too, and for nearly 20 years our community has helped us care for all of them, at no cost. This Veterans Day, the Homecoming Fund is our invitation to our neighbors: help us keep bringing veterans home."
— Corinna Kromer, Executive Director, Healing Warriors Program

HWP is inviting the community, particularly philanthropic leaders, local businesses, corporate partners, and generous individuals, to consider giving gifts towards the $500,000 goal. Every contribution helps ensure veterans and their families can access compassionate care without financial barriers.

When you give to the Homecoming Fund, you bring a veteran home. Home to care that costs them nothing, to the people who love them, and to the life they deserve.
